This book is dedicated to the mighty Cavalier Marching Band and its Auxiliaries, the Concert Choir, and the Class of 1986, who struggled to make this the best year yet!

IN THE BEGINNING . . .

Born in 1179-80 to the proud parents of Dragons and Justices, the mighty Cavalier family has grown to be a mighty force among the City's high schools.

Realizing the need to address a declining school population and still offer quality education, the city of Richmond decided to combine the various city high schools. Thus with the merging of Maggie L. Walker and John Marshall High Schools, we have Marshall-Walker High School, as we know it today.

With the consolidation of the two schools into one unified body, administrators, teachers, parents and students faced a challenge never before experienced in the Richmond Public Schools.

This union brought closeness and a sense of achievement in every facet of the school, from athletics, to academics to activities.

This atmosphere created a feeling of pride and "oneness" that became evident throughout the city.

This togetherness resulted in intense feelings that penetrated the walls of both buildings as the students entered on the first day and responded to the challenge.

Since that first day, the Cavaliers have, with desire, discipline and determination, gone on to meet the challenge they faced of a new beginning, and, in doing so, have garnered the respect and admiration of their peers.

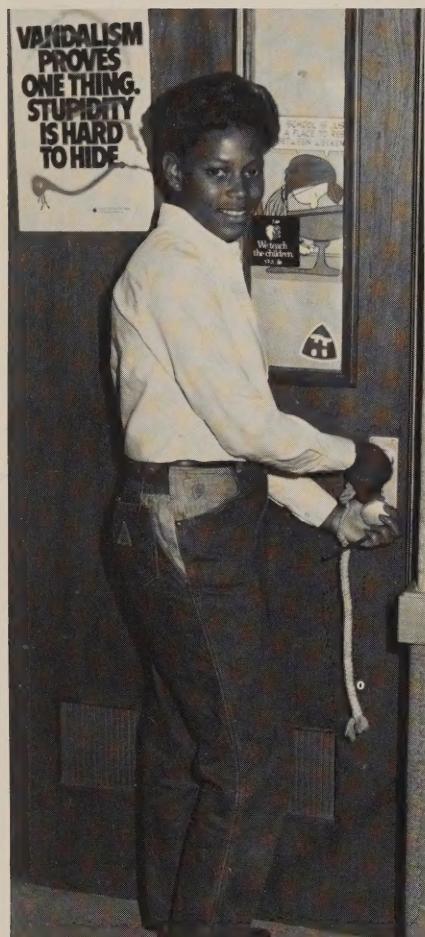

Thus begins
A CAVALIER'S STORY.

Smiles galore. Cavaliers start the school day ready for work.

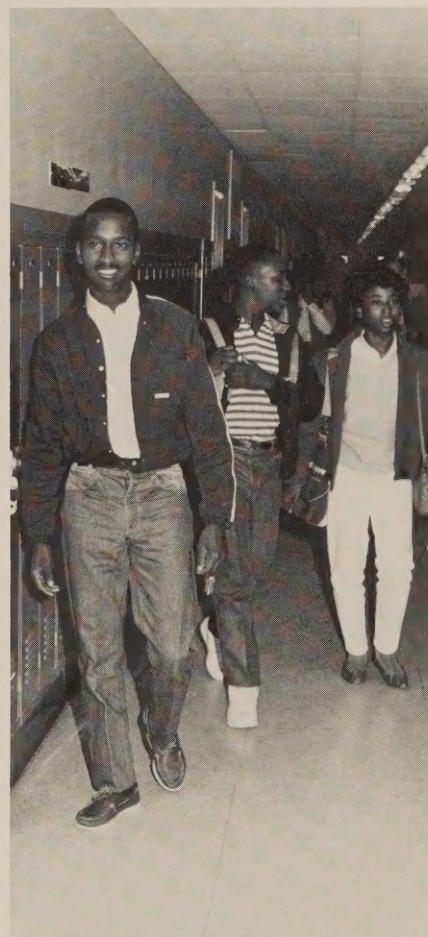

Heads up. Marvin Clark and Angelique Hunt decorate door during Reading Week.

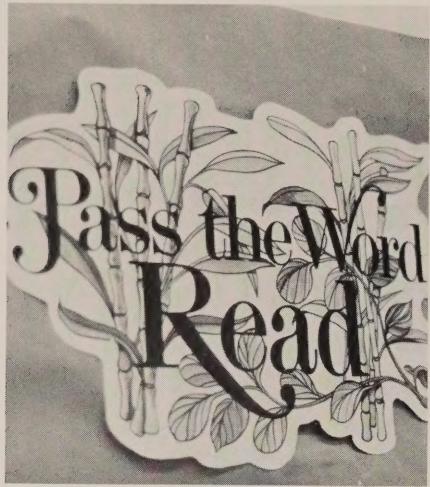

Responsibility shown. Tanya Duncan runs an errand for catering instructor.

Locking it up. Tonette Mosley secures her belongings as she heads for lunch.

Keys in hand. Isaac Johnson heads for the cadet room.

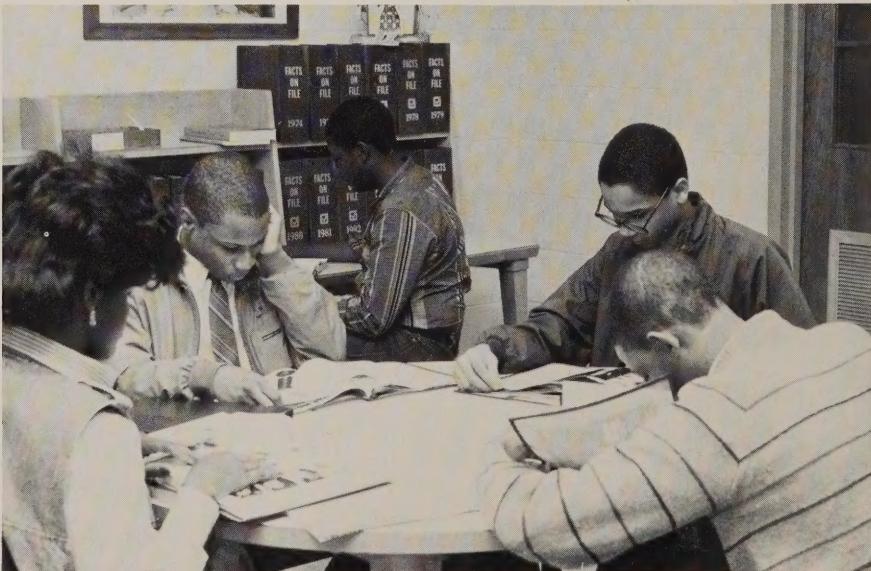

Cavaliers spend many hours in the media center. Time is spent doing research, selecting novels, reading current issues, or just browsing through the magazine section.

With the help of our library staff, Cavaliers find information with ease. This co-operation of student and staff is evident in the finished products that Cavaliers are proud to call their own.

Pass the word. Mrs. E. Hawkins, librarian, assists Samantha Piatt with current events for her social studies class.

Heads in. Cavaliers spend many hours in the media center making use of the Reader's Guide to Periodicals as well as other materials.

Flipping through. Orlando Carter flips through a magazine attempting to find information for a research paper.

Fingers in. Gloria Thompson checks the card catalogue for material to complete her English project.

Books galore. Anthony Kinchen attempts to find a novel as a part of an assignment for his reading class.

TIME FOR LUNCH

If a Cavalier has a fifth period class on the second floor, his lunch period will begin at eleven thirty and end at four minutes after twelve.

However, if his fifth period class meets in a room on the first floor, his designated lunch period will be from twelve twenty-five until twelve fifty-five.

Many Cavaliers partake of the nutritious meals prepared by the cafeteria staff with input from the catering classes.

Students from the catering classes secure help from the student body in planning the menus.

However other CAVS elect to use the lunch time to complete an assignment, to read in the library, to socialize or to relax in the courtyard.

Yearbook staff members often relinquish their lunch time to complete copy or to put finishing touches to a layout.

Seniors work with Communicative Arts teachers preparing for the competency tests.

Lunch time for a Cavalier is a time to decide whether to consume food, knowledge or friendship.

Shooting the breeze. Shantelle Anderson and Robinette Rodriguez relax in the courtyard during lunch.

Looking good. Students are served good looking, nutritious meals in the cafeteria daily. Menu planning is assisted by the catering classes.

Wall support. Erica Marsh, donned in M-W sweat shirt, gives Jimmy Wallace a friendly smile.

Mickey's view. Harvetta Dunlap and her friend Mickey Mouse use the lunch period to meditate.

To write or to bite. Donna Garrison opts to write rather than to bite as she completes an assignment during lunch.

Back it up. Jonathan Pajibo attempts to reprise an orange juice that he inadvertently dropped into the garbage compactor.

A "FAD" TASTIC YEAR

According to the Random House Dictionary, a fad is a temporary fashion, especially one followed enthusiastically by a group.

The students at Marshall-Walker are "into fads" this year.

The hair styles worn by the young ladies include the corn rows, weaved extensions and the rat tails.

The gentlemen wear the block fades, the close fades and the rat tails.

Both sexes style the fake glasses, the golds and the designer sweat shirts.

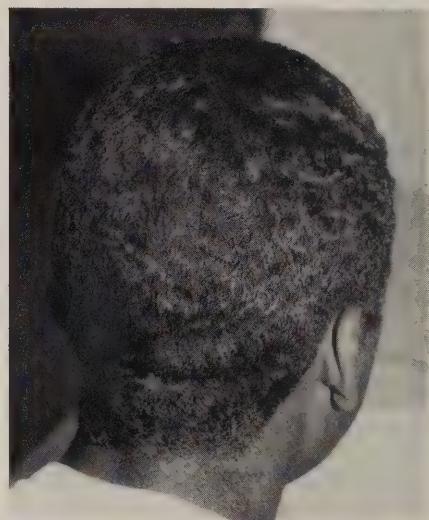

What will the fads be next year?
Why not wait around and see?

ON A SERIOUS NOTE

When Cavaliers enter their classrooms, they enter on a serious note. All play and clowning around are left on the outside of the classroom.

Students make use of the computer programs designed to enhance their learning.

There is computer-assisted education in the CA lab classes.

Sidappers also make use of the computers. Special classes are also set up for computer instruction.

Many Cavaliers are involved in a seventh period class. That class is engineering, taught by Mr. Abdel-Alim at 2:00 p.m.

When students in the class were asked how they felt about an extended day, they all gave positive answers.

One young lady replied, "I especially like the class because it is small and I am given individual attention."

Other students at Marshall-Walker spend many hours preparing writing assignments. Much preparation is spent readying for the senior competency examinations.

Not only are the students involved, but the parents participate as well.

Science projects play a major role in the life of a Cavalier. Each year science students enter their projects in competition for judging.

The student body is able to view these projects as they are displayed in our media center.

Tools ready. Sylvia Berryman and Pam Lowry are setting up for a mechanical drawing assignment.

Compass in hand. Gia Gordon takes her time as she bisects an arc in her pre-engineering class.

All set! You bet! Cheng Yeh, a sophomore in the Marshall building, awaits instructions from his computer instructor.

"I like my assignment," says Terri Carroll, as she prepares herself for the senior competency examinations

A carrot for the rabbit. Charrise Connell feeds her rabbit that was used as a part of her science project.

NOTE

Awaiting instructions from Mr. Alim, Kim Jackson practices a design in her pre-engineering class.

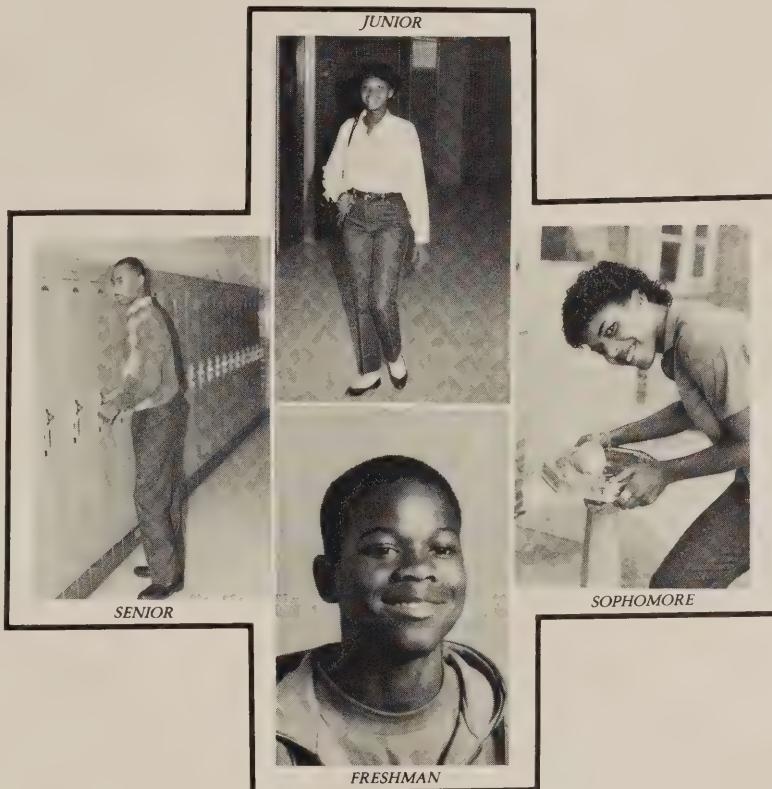

Here for business. Regina Hendricks, Angela Stewart and Donna Garrison stand ready to meet any challenge.

CLASSES

Senior — Mark Bullock
Junior — Evette Wingfield

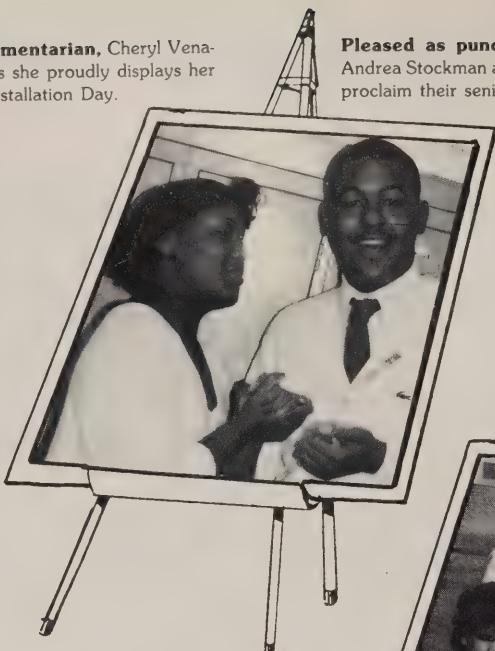

Sophomore — Stephanie Jones
Freshman — Earl Robertson

Senior class parliamentarian, Cheryl Venable, smiles brightly as she proudly displays her corsage on Senior Installation Day.

Pleased as punch. Newly installed seniors, Andrea Stockman and Anthony Harris, gleefully proclaim their senior status.

Sitting pretty. Miss Cavalier contestants Debra Law and Roslyn Hayes (seated), and Tracy Mayo and Angela Mitchell smile in anticipation of the upcoming pageant.

Pearls on parade. With proud smiles and glistening jewels, newly elected senior class officers, Rodney Bland (president), Karla Peters (vice president), Sandra Parker (secretary) enjoy the sunshine.

Not a shadow of a doubt. Seniors Alex Smith and Tracy Gray are proud to be Marshall-Walker seniors.

HOMECOMING 1986

THE MANY FACES OF MISS CAVALIER

Another homecoming has come and gone, and a new "Miss Cavalier" has been elected.

For the 1985-86 school year, Miss Bonnie Blake has been elected by the student body to represent Marshall-Walker High School as "Miss Cavalier".

On Wednesday, October 23, 1985, Bonnie, along with five other young ladies vied for the title. The other young ladies were Angela Mitchell, Tracy Mayo, Debra Law, Veronica Williams, and Roslyn Hayes.

The theme for the pageant was "Do Dreams Come True Under the Rainbow?" Each young lady shared with the audience her dream. Most girls dreamed of world peace and love.

Each contestant performed in a lady-like fashion. Bonnie, however, stole the show as she sang "Silver Shadows" by Atlantic Star.

The contestants modeled evening gowns and later answered impromptu questions.

Waiting for the announcement, Bonnie Blake is escorted by Earnest Johnson.

The winner is announced and there is a look of surprise!

A helping hand is extended by Cadet Earnest Johnson.

A congratulatory hug and the crown are given by Karen Williams, Miss Cavalier 1984.

Dressed in robe, wearing crown and holding roses, Bonnie Blake is flanked by Dr. Metts and Ernest Johnson.

Miss Cavalier parades around the field during half-time. Car is driven by Mr. Howard Hopkins, activities director.

Miss Evette Wingfield, a junior in the Marshall building and Coach Archie Henderson, an instructor in the social studies department sang a song especially for the contestants.

The mistress of ceremonies for the morning was Miss Linita Corbett, a senior in the Marshall building. The masters of ceremonies were Mr. Carlton Stevens, assistant principal and Mr. Howard Hopkins, activities director.

"Do dreams come true under the rainbow?" Apparently for Bonnie Blake, "Miss Cavalier" 1985-86, they do.

MORE HOMECOMING ACTIVITIES

Viewing from the sideline, Lawrence Patterson gets a close-up view of activities.

"We're #1!" says Michelle Harris, co-captain of the cheering squad, as her peers watch.

Twirling flags. Emily Clark holds flag high as she performs during homecoming activities.

With elevated help, Jimmy Wallace blows a solo on his horn.

Hands high, Jock Bolden leads the band in a pepful tune during the homecoming game.

Look out for Number 1. Keith Thornton, quarterback, runs the ball.

JUNIORS

Junior Class Officers Regina Hendrick, secretary; Donna Garrison, president; Angela Stewart, treasurer; and Lisa St. John, vice president meet in the media center to plan for an upcoming junior class meeting.

The junior class advisors are Mrs. D. Smith and Mrs. W. Ferguson. These two sponsors together with the officers and class representatives have made plans to sponsor service projects as a part of their yearly activities.

During the winter break they have made plans to visit nursing homes as well as homes for the aged in the community.

Meeting at least once and sometimes twice a month, the officers worked hard. They sponsored competitive activities between homerooms to see which homeroom had the highest percentage for paying class dues. The winning homeroom would be served cake and orange juice.

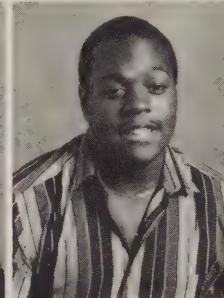

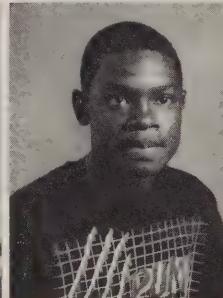

The class sold fruit as a fund raising activity.

Officers visited junior homerooms on a regular basis informing the students of class activities. They were hoping that hard work meant success.

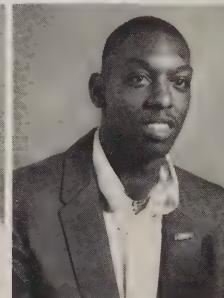

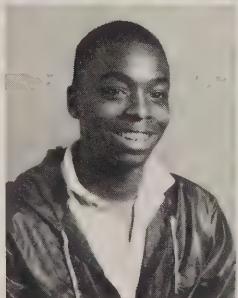

The class has plans for a pizza party in the near future.

NO ABSENCES

Regina Hendricks, a junior in the Marshall building, is editor of The Messenger, the school's newspaper. To qualify for this position Regina had to first of all earn an "A" in journalism for the first marking period. She did.

In addition to fulfilling her duties as editor-in-chief of the paper, Regina is a member of the yearbook staff, secretary of the junior class, member of the marching band, and the National Honor Society and SIDAP.

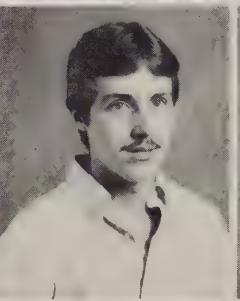

Regina has never missed a day from school.

DYNAMIC DUO

Travan and Travis Jasper are identical twins. They are both juniors in the Marshall building. Both young men participate actively in indoor and outdoor track, varsity football, National Honor Society, SIDAP and the jazz band.

Travis attended the Governor's School for the Gifted during the summer of '85, while Travan participated in RAPME, a summer course for students interested in engineering as a career.

Neither twin missed a day from school last year and both were recipients of a number of awards on awards day.

Travan and Travis Jasper both plan to attend the University of Pennsylvania after graduation.

MOON LIGHTING

In her spare time when Michelle Carter is not on the basketball court practicing with the Lady Cavaliers Basketball Team or playing in a game, she moonlights as a librarian's assistant.

Michelle plays forward on the offensive and defensive teams. She averaged at least 9.5 points per game and pulled down ten rebounds as well.

When this power forward assumes her role as a librarian's assistant, she quietly checks out books, runs errands, works on the computer, collects passes and catches up on her reading.

SOPHOMORES

The Sophomore Class Officers for 1985-86 bring with them a wealth of talent. The president, Calvin Grimes (not shown), is a member of the marching band as well as a member of the concert band. In the marching band Clavin blows the trumpet.

Kevin Paterson is vice president of the class.

Lisa Claiborne, secretary, is statistician for the Boys' Varsity Basketball Team. She is also a flag girl.

Kim Lawrence, parliamentarian, holds membership in the FBLA and also the DECA club. Charmaine Jenkins is the Sophomore Class treasurer.

THE YEAR

Benita Clark, Miss Sophomore, feels that the 1985-86 school year is the "Year to Remember".

Benita was elected Miss Sophomore by popular vote. She was very happy to know that the sophomore class wanted her to represent the class.

Parading around the stadium during halftime activities at the homecoming game also delighted Benita. Benita quoted, "I feel great because I won".

Benita's goal in life is to become a pediatrician. Her favorite subject is history; her least favorite is math.

Benita's hobbies include skating, dancing and reading.

FRESHMEN

ARE PEOPLE TOO

The freshmen at Marshall-Walker would like for the sophomores, juniors and seniors to know and understand that freshmen are people too!

Since freshmen are at the bottom of the totem pole as far as classification is concerned, freshmen are sometimes overlooked. They are begging for equal recognition!

Nikita Adams smiles sweetly for the freshman class as she pauses before going to her physical education class.

"Beauty and intelligence go hand in hand," says Tonya Washington, Miss Freshman.

LEADERS ARE WE

Ladies lead the freshman class for the 1985-86 school year. Smiling from left to right are Nikita Adams, president; Kelley Quarles, vice president; Anglea Clark, secretary; Tamela Johnson, chaplain; and Rachael Whitehead, treasurer (not shown).

Tamela Johnson, the treasurer, donned in her MW Choir sweat shirt, said that the ladies could not sit back and wait for the men to take charge. She said that if there is a job that needs to be done the ladies will just have to take over if the men are not around.

Hats off to Tamela and the rest of the freshman class officers.

BEST OF THEM ALL

When the Mighty Cavaliers finished the season with a 10-2 record, proving to be the best of them all, there was no match for the pride which shone on their faces.

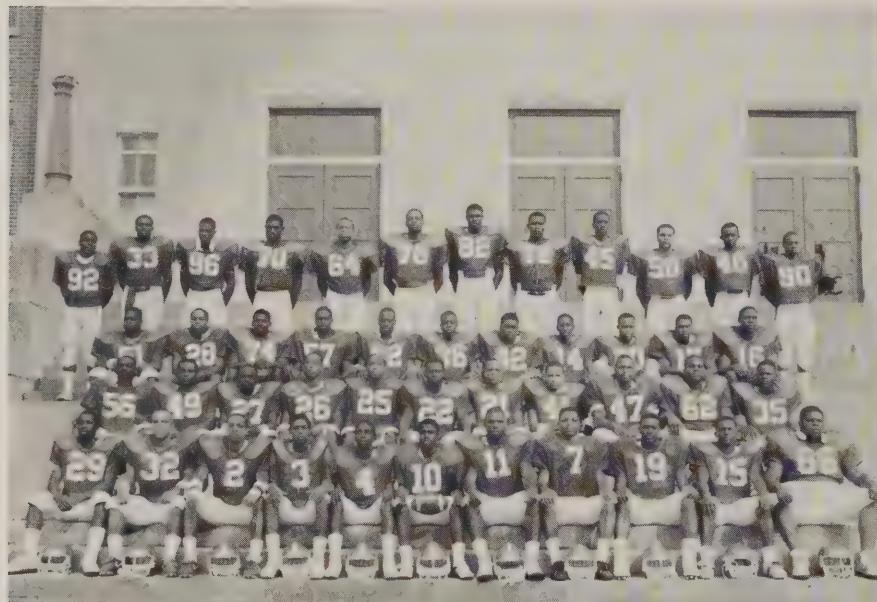

In the season opener against the Henrico Warriors the Cavaliers lit up the scoreboard with a score of 32-0 and set the pace for the season. In their second game the CAVS downed Prince George 54-6.

Early in the season the offense proved to be stronger than the defense. More pressure was put on the defense. As the season got underway, the defense became stronger and was instrumental in pulling the team out of tough spots. This proved especially true in both games with Highland Springs with scores of 14-13 and 13-6 respectively.

The Cavaliers ranked number one in the Times Dispatch Top 10 Poll for the first two weeks of the season; however, the third game of the season was against Patrick Henry. This was an upset for the CAVS with a score of 14-16. The CAVS fell to number four in the poll.

The CAVS met Monacan twice during the season. The first encounter was a victory with a score of 13-7. However Monacan upset the CAVS in the Central Regional Championship playoffs with a score of 14-17.

29 — Ernest Dozier, 32 — Claude Hattaway, 2 — Lawrence Levi, 3 — Craig Williams, 4 — Kevin Anderson, 10 — Julius Gaiters, 11 — Myron Richardson, 7 — Keith Thornton, 19 — Eric Hopkins, 15 — Joey Jefferson, 66 — Roland Weeden, 56 — Leslie Kidd, 49 — William Moses, 27 — Vernon Cousins, 25 — Travon Jasper, 26 — Travis Jasper, 22 — William Johnson, 21 — Kirk Wilde, 41 — Wilson Friend, 47 — Aaron Evans, 62 — Keith Hughes, 35 — Lawrence Patterson, 51 — Roland Marsh, 28 — Garrick Fitzgerald, 74 — Anthony Washington, 57 — Alpheus Johnson, 52 — Kendall Clack, 36 — Walter Broadie, 42 — Shawn Roberson, 14 — Steve Nutall, 20 — Sylvester Henderson, 17 — Berkly Davis, 16 — Charles Fleming, 92 — Pajibo Johnson, 33 — Mitchell Lewis, 96 — Michael Cooper, 70 — James Hargrove, 64 — Isaiah Crawford, 76 — James Parker, 82 — Jack Sharpe, 72 — Darell Johnson, 45 — Mark Lomax, 58 — Amos Christian, 46 — Michael Branch, 90 — Noah White, Not shown — Michael Rollins.

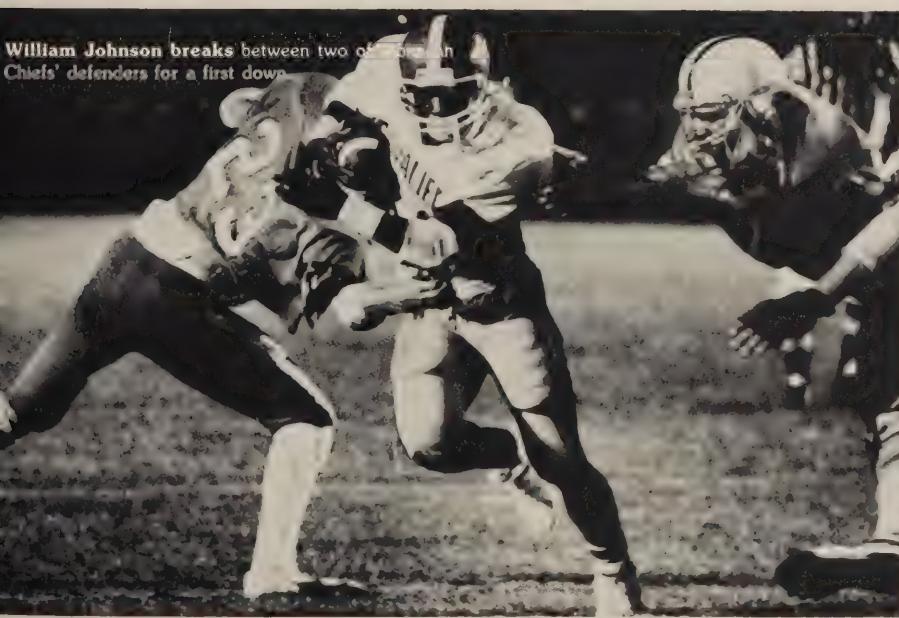

Eric Hopkins rushes for a touchdown.

All great men. Coach Anderson poses with #47 Aaron Evans, fullback, and #7 Keith Thornton, quarterback.

Running back Eric Hopkins puts on a show in leading the Cavaliers past JHW with a score of 33-6.

2. J.V. Cavaliers and fans cheer the team to victory over Prince George.

3. Excellent blocking allows M-W's Eric Hopkins to gain sixty-four years.

4. Lesley Kidd (left) and Charles Fleming battle AK's William Williford (right) for the bouncing ball.

5. Running back Eric Hopkins breaks clear of Hopewell's defense as he gains yardage for a 34-6 win.

DISTRICT CHAMPIONS

The CAVS were determined to move up on the poll and did so by defeating Monacan and Highland Springs. Their minds were not set on winning the State Championship.

Victories over Hopewell (34-14), and Petersburg (38-7) built up the team's confidence as they anticipated their meeting with the JHW Trojans.

The climax of the season was the Cavalier's victory over their inner-city rivals, the JHW Trojans, with a score of 33-6. This was the biggest upset the CAVS ever had over the Trojans, and on homecoming night too!

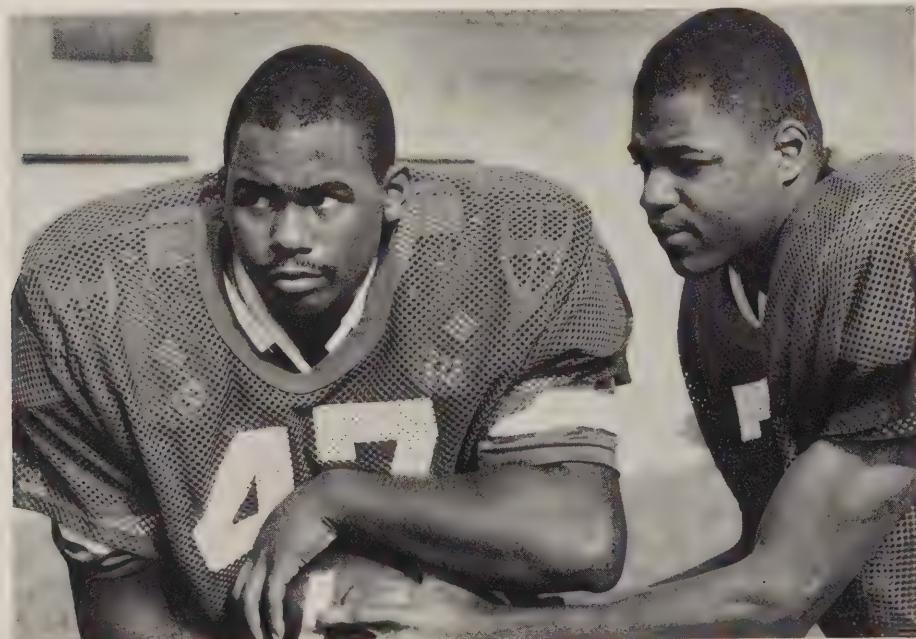

The Cavaliers' confidence soared as they met and defeated Dinwiddie and Armstrong-Kennedy. The CAVS left the Generals behind by eighteen points and shut out the Jaguars with a score of 34-0.

The Cavaliers hosted the Springers in the first game of the playoffs on the Henrico Warriors' turf. Their 13-6 victory over the Springers could be attributed to their superb coaching staff as well as their strong offensive and defensive efforts during the game. The victory placed the CAVS in the running for the Central District Regional title. One obstacle stood in the way — Monacan!

The CAVS fell under the Chiefs speed and strategy with a score of 14-17. "This was one of our best seasons," said special team players Lawrence Levi and Anthony Washington. "This was a season to remember!"

The Mighty Cavaliers head for the field to receive the kick off from Prince George.

Hand off. Aaron Evans #47 gets hand off from quarterback Keith Thornton #7 before the big game with JHW.

Running the ropes. Aaron Evans is getting his legs in shape for the game against the Jaguars by running th ropes.

Elusion is the key. Eric Hopkins tries to elude a Petersburg defender. The CAVS defeated the WAVE 38-7.

Loose ball is inbounded by Regina Cosby to Demetris Rowe.

4-12 SEASON

Although their 4-12 season record does not reflect their hard-fought games and spirited practices the Junior Varsity Girls' Basketball Team experienced memorable events during the year.

Victories over Prince George, Petersburg, and Dinwiddie encouraged the J.V. Lady Cavaliers to fight on.

Donna Wilson and Shelley White helped pull the girls through strenuous practices and would-be long games. Sonya Martin and Kim Twine along with Sharon Saunders boosted the ladies' spirits as they played hard and kept the team going.

Coach Coles felt that the whole team should be congratulated, as they fought hard and never gave up.

Free for all. Someone threw a bad pass and now the ball is up for grabs by any one.

It's over now. The game is over now and the J.V. Lady CAVS defeated the Petersburg Wave 29-24.

Just cooling it. Members of the Cross Country Team relax before their loss to Petersburg High.

Stretching it out, William Scott makes strides toward the finishing line.

ON THE GOOD FOOT

Although the Cross Country Team ended their season with a record of 0-6, they worked hard to end up on the good foot.

The year started with doubts as to whether or not Marshall-Walker would have a cross country team.

Coach Archie Henderson encouraged and invited students to join with him to form a team. For some reason, they were reluctant.

However, by the time the season opened, there were five members and a trainer. Coach told these students that they would have to give their all and all.

Douglas Brewer, William Scott, Lester Reeves, Keith Shelton, Marvin

Smith and Robert Evans, the trainer, knew that they had to start out on a good foot with hopes of ending up the same way.

The boys ran hard and their spirits were great, but the competition was too great.

The Cavaliers met with Petersburg, Dinwiddie, Patrick Henry, Armstrong-Kennedy, Monacan and Prince George. The Cavaliers ended fifth in the district.

The end of the season, however, found the Cross Country Team still feeling good about themselves. Their coach never gave up on them, and most importantly, they never gave up on themselves.

The last mile. Douglas Brewer picks up his pace as he goes into the last of three miles.

Crossing the finish line, Keith Shelton receives his placement number from trainer, Robert Evans.

A good run is made by Lester Reeves as he completes his three-mile run against Dinwiddie.

The race is over and Marvin Smith chats with an opponent from Petersburg High concerning the race.

Grasping clipboard. Coach Archie Henderson keeps an account of the time his team takes to complete a race.

RACKING IT UP

The 1985-86 Marshall-Walker Girls' Tennis Team finished the season with an even record of five wins and five losses.

The players were Sandra Parker, La-Shon Glover, Esther Kim, Dekota Goode, Leslie West, Sonya McClure, Afnoria Hawthorne, Sonya Jackson, Andrea Baltzager, Tara Lawrence, Bonita Holloway.

Sandra Parker was the regular season champion with a perfect record of ten wins and no losses.

The District Tournament started on November 24, 1985. Sandra Parker, La-Shon Glover, Esther Kim and Dekota Goode participated.

Sandra Parker, the number one seed, was taken to the limit and lost a hard fought battle to Janet Murphrey from Monocan, by a score of 9-8 in the semifinals.

All players will return next year except Sandra Parker who is a senior.

son, asst. coach, Dekota Goode, Sandra Parker, La-Shon Glover, Andrea Baltzager, Horace Fisher, coach, Bonita Holloway, trainer.

With knees bent, Sonya Jackson returns the ball to her Monacan opponent.

With tennis racquet held ready, Sandra Parker, regular season champion, ended the season with a perfect record, 10-0.

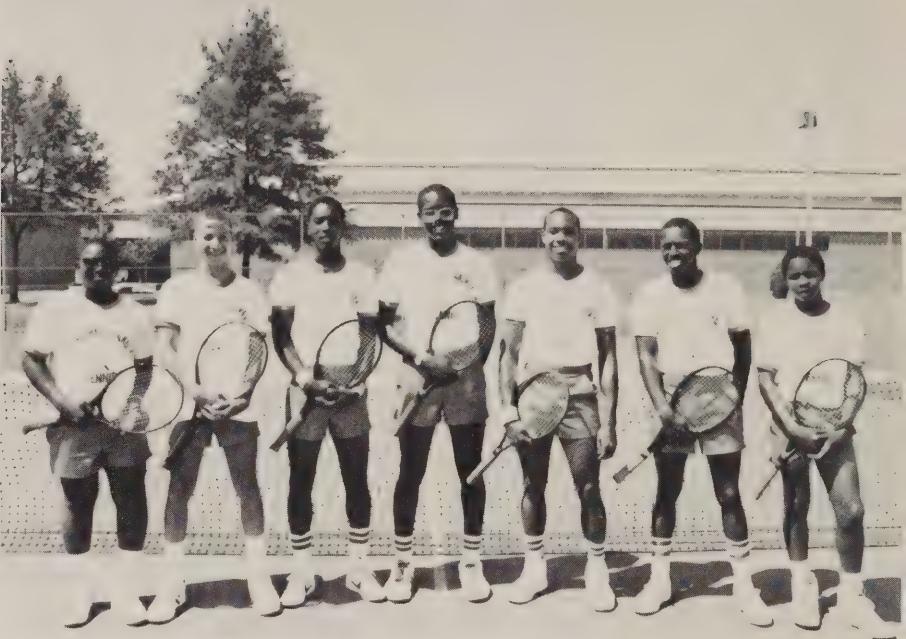

With elbow bent, Esther Kim, a student in the Henderson Building, uses a backhand stroke to return the ball to her opponent.

Fenced out, Varsity Basketball Coach Pierce Calaham stops to observe the girls' tennis match with Armstrong-Kennedy.

Lawrence (Squirt) Levi demonstrates the proper technique necessary in executing a forehand return.

TENNIS TEAM EYES ANOTHER PERFECT SEASON

With the return of nearly all of last year's team, the Cavaliers look to retain their Central District title.

With a last year's season record of 12-0, an undefeated season, the team returned this year with high hopes.

Returning from last year's varsity squad are Captain Nat Lewis, a four-year letterman; Larry Garrard, district singles champ; Brian Gordon, Levi China, Lawrence Levi, Chris Minney, and Marcus Ribinson.

Added depth should come from William Davis, Leon Brown, Walter Parker, Anthony Wynn, and Chris Williams.

Coach Lewis felt more than satisfied with the team's season. He also feels optimistic about winning the Regional Crown and representing the school as the first State Tournament entry.

Last year's number one player, Larry Garrard, serves up an ace.

Clatrice Coleman eyes the team and gives them an encouraging hand.

WRESTLING

With a starting team of forty men, the wrestling team had dwindled to twenty-five men by the end of the season. Only three of those twenty-five actually wrestled for Marshall-Walker the previous year. This mostly rookie team partly explains the poor season the team experienced, since the ninth and tenth graders had little or no experience.

Eric Jones of the unlimited class was second in the district.

Jawanza Hughes a member of the ninety-eight pound class was first in the district and fifth in the region.

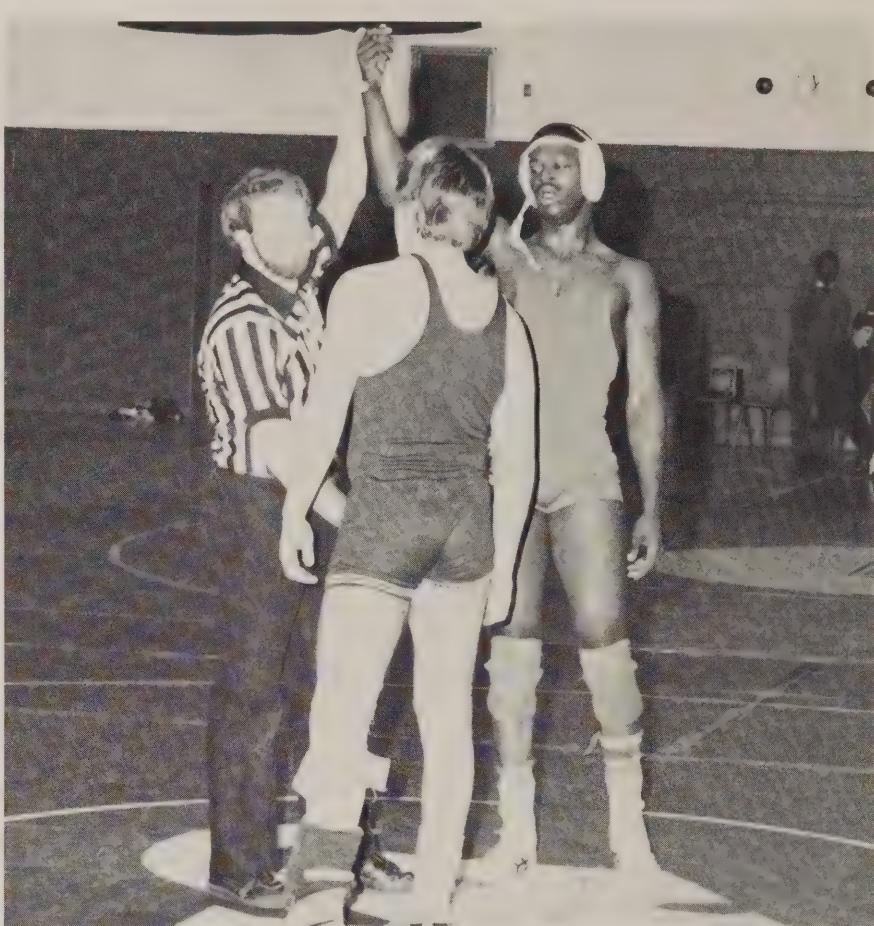

Eric Collins of the 155 pound class was first in the district and third in the region; therefore, Eric will wrestle in state competition.

Time out for a winner. In a match against Woodbridge, Frank Richardson's hand is held high in victory.

AN UP AND DOWN SEASON FOR VARSITY SQUAD

The 1985-86 basketball season was a season of ups and downs. The Marshall-Walker Cavaliers, predicted to be the season's favorite, just could not seem to get it together.

There were many bright spots, however. Led by senior Darnell Parkes, the Cavaliers played very close throughout the season. Many nights the fans held their breath at the buzzer waiting for the outcome.

The Cavaliers spent long hours after school trying to perfect their skills. Diligently they worked at the free throw line. Eagerly they listened to pointers from the coaches. The guys deserve commendation for their unselfish efforts.

The team as a whole played inconsistently. The team started the season on an aggressive note, but throughout the grind of the season, the team slowed down.

The Cavaliers had just as much or more talent than any other team in the district, but for some reason this talent did not blend.

One could say that this year provided a learning experience that will probably push the team to the State championship next year.

When the CAVS played Prince George at Marshall, the team seemed to have really come together. The CAVS led from start to finish. The players showed confidence and patience that they had not displayed all season.

The CAVS simply controlled the game. If this game is any indication of what's to come, look out Cavalier opponents.

Next year the Marshall-Walker Basketball Team should be one of the best in the state, with nine returning players and an undefeated junior varsity team.

16-0 SEASON FOR J.V.'S

The Junior Varsity Basketball Team had a very successful season. From the first game to the last the members of the team clicked.

Winning sixteen games out of sixteen games, the Junior Varsity Team won the J.V. Central District Championship.

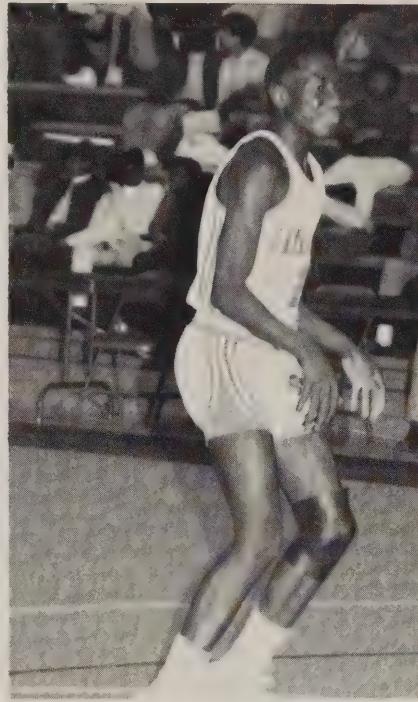

Under the excellent coaching of Mr. Melvin Pope, the team could do so wrong. From shooting, to guarding and defense the team excelled.

Mr. Melvin Pope was assisted by Bentley Page, a junior at Marshall-Walker.

Mr. Pope and Bently felt that every reserve was just as good as the starters. They considered the team to be a team without problems.

Due to the superior talent displayed on the court this year, the coaches are very optimistic about next year's team.

Look out basket! Doing what he does best, Warren Peoples goes up for two.

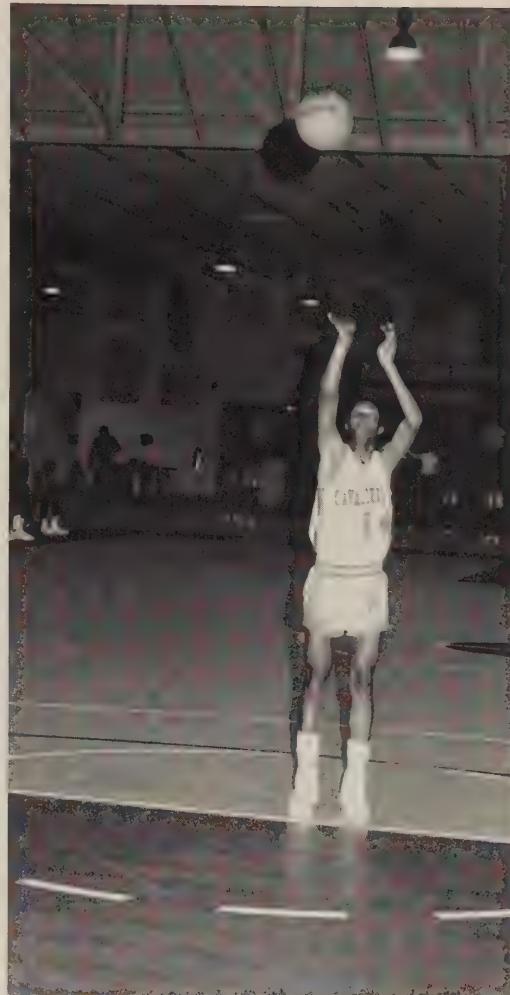

Keith Smithers is towering for a lay-up, as Marshall McBride caught off-guard, saunters down the court.

NUMBER ONE IN SPIRIT

When it comes to spirit the J.V. Football Team is number one. Getting off to a good start, the J.V. CAVS defeated their first opponent, Dinwiddie, with a score of 12-0. Spirits soared.

The J.V. CAVS faced Patrick Henry next with confidence and played hard; however, they dropped their first game with a score of 8-14.

Not dismayed, the J.V. CAVS popped back and defeated their next three opponents. They not only defeated Monacan, Highland Springs and Hopewell, they shut them out with scores of 14-0, 18-0, and 12-0 consecutively.

Petersburg was next in line. The game was characterized by strong offense and defense play by both teams. The J.V. CAVS fell to Petersburg with a score of 12-14.

The next game was the highlight of the season. The J.V. CAVS defeated the JHW Trojans with a score of 18-16 and the next week they were defeated by Dinwiddie, 0-12.

The J.V. CAVS ended their season in high spirits as they defeated Armstrong-Kennedy with a score of 6-0.

CHEERFUL FACES

When Cavalier fans attend a football or basketball game, they will not only be able to look forward to skilled performances by the players, but also be able to look forward to elated spirits sparked by the cheerful faces of the cheerleaders who greet them.

Captains Ychelle Spratley, Shana Jones and Michelle Harris lead these ladies in cheers that put the audience in a happy mood as the audience anticipates a victory.

However next year Shanna will have to carry on without Ychelle and Michelle who are graduating seniors.

These spirited young ladies spend hours after school practicing and exercising so that they are not only together as they lead the audience but they are also in shape physically.

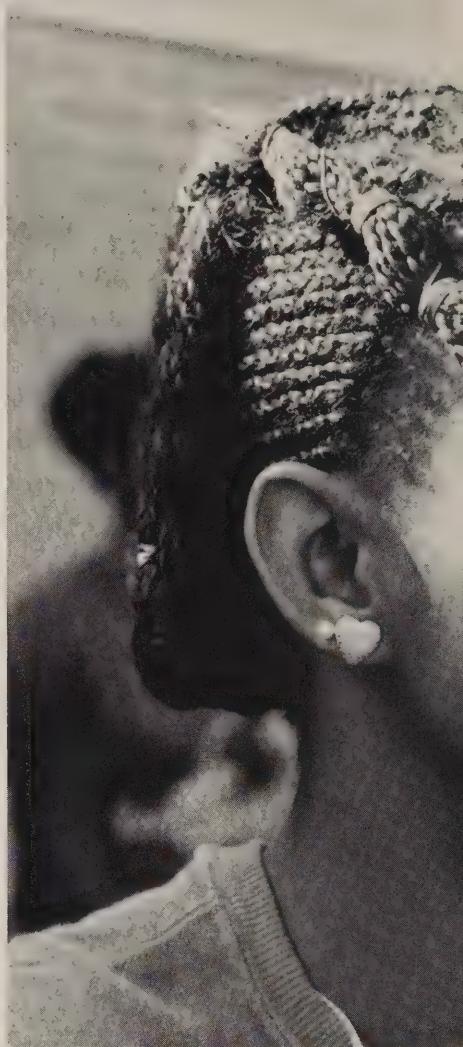

When the weather permits, they practice outside where they attract a large observing audience. If there is inclement weather, one can find these performers inside the building in the lobby adjacent to the gym. Hats off to the cheerleaders!

PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT

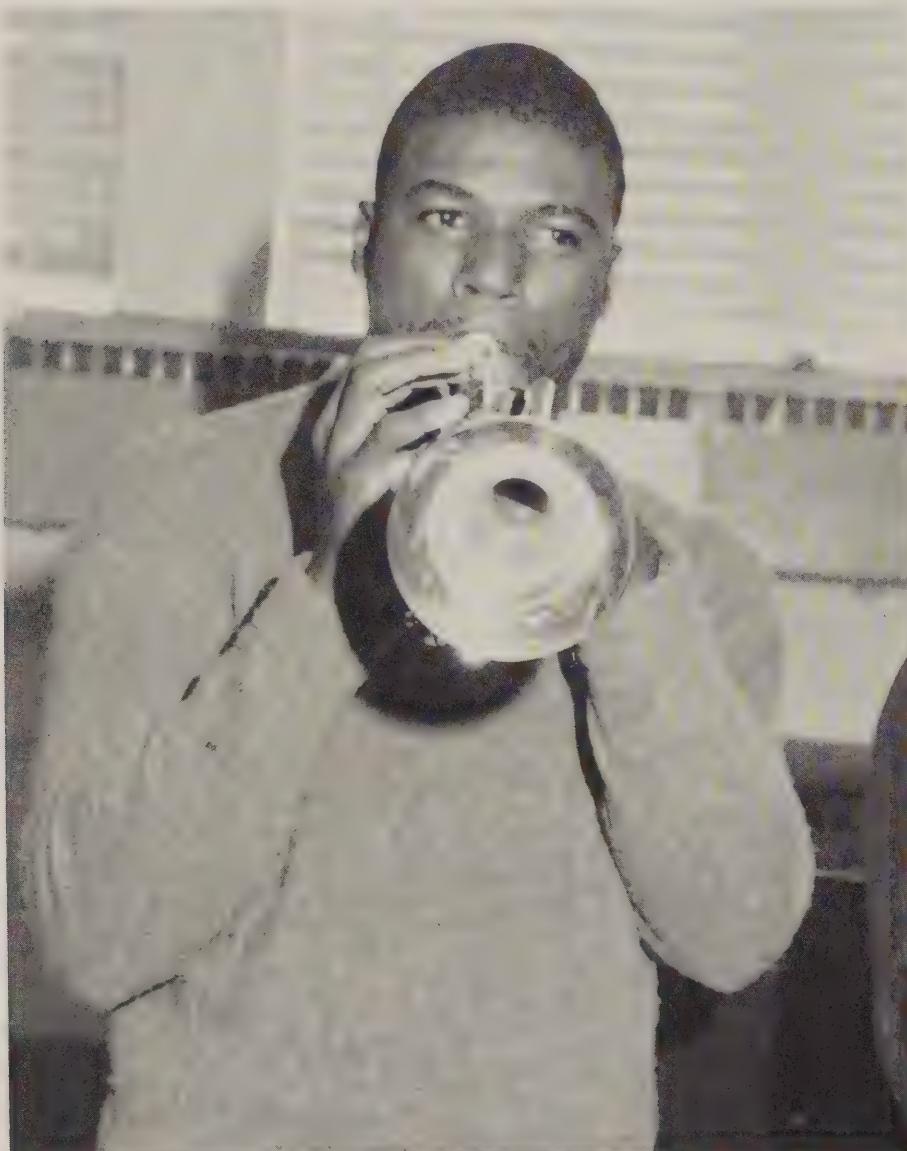

Being a member of the stage band is a fun activity, but it is a hard job at the same time. There are good days and bad days. Everything is not automatic. The band practices every day, Monday through Friday. It takes time to adjust to the blues, and other forms of jazz.

The trumpet sounds as Myron Richardson ALL CENTRAL DISTRICT split end prepares for the winter concert.

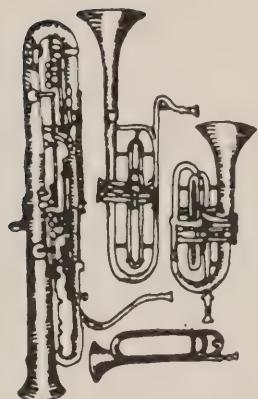

On the other hand, dedication has prepared the members to win national and international first place awards in New York, Toronto and Boston.

The stage band has performed at the Sixth Street Market Place, Azalea Mall, the Marriott Hotel and the John Marshall Hotel.

With instruments in place, Loren Bowser, Andre Pinchback, Bridgett Pitts, Aunette Blair and Andre Brown ready themselves for class.

Sounds rise from the deep as Darryl King plays a tune on his saxophone.

Positioning his guitar, Tim Mines concentrates so that he can begin on the right note.

First year band member Aunetta Blair gives her full attention to the music she is playing on her saxaphone.

Double blows are given as Travan and Travis Jasper sound off on their horns.

As Marquis Moss and Kevin Bolling relax in the background, Nathaniel McQuay keeps time on the drums.

A time to audit. Michael Coles a non-stage band member, sits in on the class and takes a few notes.

A touch of ivory. Piano player Lamont West warms up before performing to ensure no false notes.

CONDUCTOR IN ACTION

Mr. Thomas Shaw is the orchestra conductor in the Marshall building. If one has the opportunity to walk by the orchestra room during the fourth period on a given day, one would probably forget where he is.

As the music flows through the doorway, one might feel that he has been transcended to Radio City Music Hall. The music is music that draws a listener and holds him spellbound.

As one looks through the door, he will find a group of students giving their full attention to their conductor.

During the fourth period Mr. Shaw, orchestra conductor and instructor, listens carefully for the right notes.

Mr. Shaw was fortunate enough to have quite an unusual experience this summer. He played bass with a jazz band on a cruise ship for four months.

The students under Mr. Shaw's instruction are Marshall students combined with Richmond Community High students.

The Richmond Community High students play the winds and the brass, while the Marshall students handle the piano and the strings. There are about fifty orchestra students in all.

One, two, three, four . . . Timing is important as Mr. Shaw prepares students for the winter concert.

Mr. Shaw has students' undivided attention as he listens to the strings.

Caressing her violin, Lyniece White concentrates on her timing. Lyniece also plays basketball.

The brass section as well as the strings practice for their performance at Richmond Community High School.

J.V. football player, Scotty Hinton, shows his versatility as he plays the bass.

Esther Kim plays the piano to complement a selection by the orchestra.

STEPPING IN STYLE!

The Marshall-Walker Marching Band stepped out in style this year as senior Bridget Pitts made her debut as drum major.

Bridget, a former clarinet and saxophone player in the marching band, strutted hard and led the Cavalier Marching Band with great dignity and pride.

Bridget is a very versatile musician as well a dynamic leader and director. She presently plays the saxophone in the stage band.

Bridget is who's new in green and blue and will be hard to top for years to come.

Bridget is a little concerned about the size of the marching band. The band is somewhat smaller this year.

The size of the band did not seem to bother veteran drum majors Jock Bolden and Barry Bell. They felt that although the marching band was small in size, the hearts of the members were big.

These veterans felt that the attitudes and spirits of the members kept the band going strong.

Good things do come in small packages.

Just check out our band and see.

Nothing, not even size, can stop us.

For the Mighty Marching Cavaliers are we.

STUDYING PAYS OFF

The National Honor Society is an organization that recognizes those juniors and seniors displaying outstanding leadership, character, service, and scholarship. During a special faculty meeting, faculty members carefully analyze each student's record and choose those persons most deserving of the honor.

The Marshall-Walker chapter of the National Honor Society has twenty-four members. This chapter is kept quite busy. The members participate in many projects to benefit the community. They donate at Thanksgiving and give toys, food and money to a family at Christmas.

For their own enjoyment, the members of the NHS went to Pizza Hut to welcome the new members.

For Christmas, the NHS had a skating party. One of their future activities includes tutoring in the Plato Lab once every two weeks for the rest of the school year.

VIDEO-JOURNALISM DEFINED

Students enrolled in Journalism have discovered that the class has been expanded to include a video segment. The Media Services Department of Richmond Public Schools oversees the operation of the television shows produced by the class, with the teacher advisers, Mrs. Lilian Carter and Mrs. Viola Bennett, participating.

"The High School Beat" news show, a product of the Video-Journalism class, is produced once each month by students who assume the responsibilities for camera work, operation of video equipment, and conducting on-camera interviews. Each show is designated to be about 12 minutes long and appears on the in school channel, 7, on Thursdays evenings at 5:45 p.m. and 6:45 p.m.

The Marshall Journalism class plans to produce six shows this year, the first being shown in January. Subjects to be covered are the future, including jobs and college, Valentine's Day, student conduct, extra duties of teachers, the seven-period day, drugs in our school, school security, and a new attitude.

Sports briefs will also be included in show. Hosts and hostesses are selected from within the class on the basis of ideas they submit for the show.

The Journalism class is trying something new this year. They are setting their own type, using a word processing program on the Macintosh Apple computer. This process will eliminate their having to set type for copy for stories. This process will be most helpful to their budget as well as offer much experience for the students.

BATTLE OF THE BRAINS

The 1985 Battle of the Brains Competition recently took place in the studio of Channel WCVE on Thursday December 19, 1985. Marshall Walker competed with Lloyd C. Byrd High School in the first round. M-W staged a tough battle.

The members are: Melvin Crenshaw, captain; Nathaniel McQuay, Lori Johnson, John Houston, Shelly Patterson, Donald Winston and Harold Scott Jr. The sponsors are Ms. B.

Tinsley, and Mr. F.W. Starks.

The students are chosen on a basis of good command of knowledge, competitive drive, consistency in performance and the ability to contribute to a group effort.

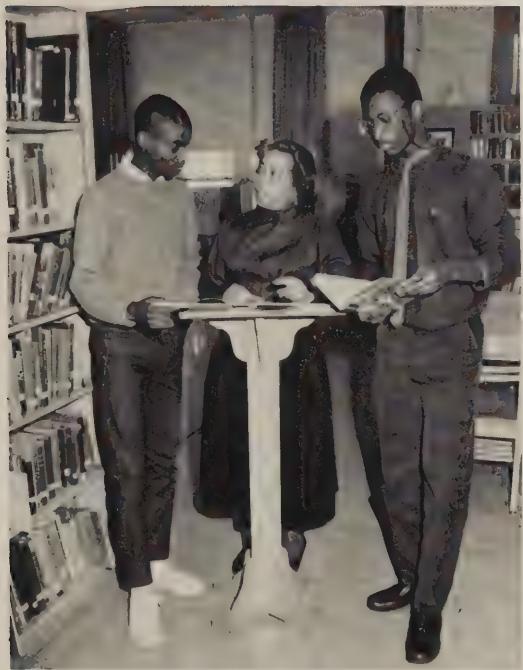

The Battle of the Brains competition is a six-year-old project which helps students with outstanding command of knowledge to compete against other schools while working within a group. The competition includes two competitive rounds and one team round contains a variety of general knowledge questions. The team with the greatest amount of points, wins the competition, and advances to the next round.

Students benefit from the program by learning to compete in a group, while exercising their academic abilities.

ALL IN THE FAMILY

Concerned with meeting the needs of the student body, the Student Council Association has promoted much enthusiasm among the students.

Under the direction of Mrs. Rhonda Young and Ms. Barbara Tinsley, the SCA is one of the most popularly known service organizations at Marshall-Walker.

Representatives from each homeroom class are elected each year to serve as a link between students and faculty.

This year's representatives started out with activities geared toward Spirit Week and Homecoming.

Under the student leadership of Deborah Law, the SCA also helped the senior class sponsor a dance to raise money to offset class expenses.

Not unlike her father, Melvin Law, Chairman of the Richmond City School Board, Deborah strives to make the SCA live up to its fullest potential.

The President speaks. SCA President, Debra Law, gives her acceptance speech during installation, without a shadow of a doubt that her reign would be a successful one.

SCA Officers: Nicole Chalmers, Associate Secretary; Priscilla Briggs, Secretary; LaShawn Payne, Associate Vice President; Velvia Brooks, Vice President; Debra Law, President.

Richmond City School Board Chairman, Mr. Melvin Law, addresses the student body during the SCA Installation program.

With females up front, SCA Representatives line up as they prepare to march in for the installation program.

CATERING TO YOUR NEEDS

The catering classes at Marshall-Walker have extended their learning beyond the classroom.

They have formed a catering business titled, "Catering With Class."

These students specialize in cheese and meat trays, vegetable trays and dip, ham biscuits, fresh fruit trays, sandwich trays and punch.

This group caters to the Marshall-Walker family and to the general public.

Guest speakers visited the catering classes to give first-hand information on the catering business.

Speakers who visited included Lucious Alford, a former Marshall-Walker student who has his own catering business; Mr. Ritz, an advisor for Virginia State University; and George Ingram, an employee from Casa Gallardo's, who moved from cook to manager.

Guest lecturer, Lucious Alford, former M-W student and presently self-employed, visits the catering class to give pointers on catering techniques.

Beating the batter better, Harold Shelton, a senior at Marshall-Walker, assists Penny Griffin as she prepares sheet cake batter.

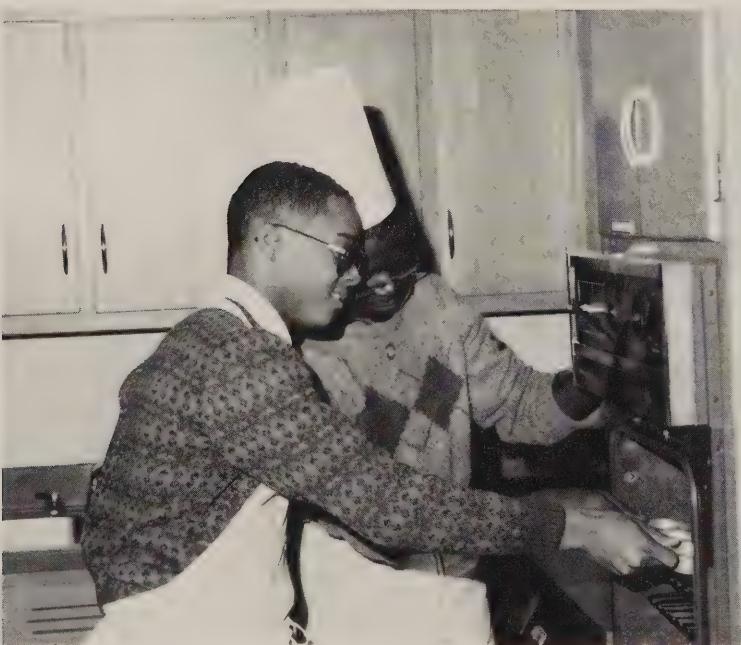

Hatted for the occasion, Robert Winston, a second-year catering student, retrieves the butter from the refrigerator to complete his recipe.

Theory is a must. Rita Irving and Sharon Johnson study a cook book trying to decide on a baking project.

Heads in. Kawanda Gaines, Sherita Hayes, Cynthia Jefferson and Sharon Mayland copy recipes from professional cook book.

All set. Michael Winston and William Bryant, donned in catering attire, put finished muffins in the oven.

Let's clean up. Penyny Griffin, a senior catering student, undertakes the responsibility of clean up assignment.

As Kawanda, Sherita, Cynthia and Sharon copy recipes from magazines and cookbooks, Felicia Bland, Lorraine McCoy, Chandra Harvell, Kim Carter, and Leslie Martin lift recipes from local clippings. Students are preparing for catering activities.

Together we stand. Angela Mitchell and Dwight Williams measure ingredients for the rolls they are getting ready to bake.

COURT'S IN SESSION

The Marshall-Walker Student Court was appointed by the student council with the approval of the administration to serve a term of one school year.

For the 1985-86 school term, the following students served as justices of the Marshall-Walker Student Court: Rodney Bland — Chief Justice, Theodore Brown, Lisa Clayborne, Melvin Crenshaw, LaShon Glover, James Hargrove, Wayne Henderson, Nicole Lewis, Karla Peters, and Tanya Smith.

A chief justice of the court was elected from among its members by a majority vote. The chief justice for the 1985-86 school term was Rodney Bland. The sponsors for the Student Court were Mrs. Vinia Anderson and Mrs. Rhonda Young.

The Student Court received referrals for violations of the honor code only through the principals.

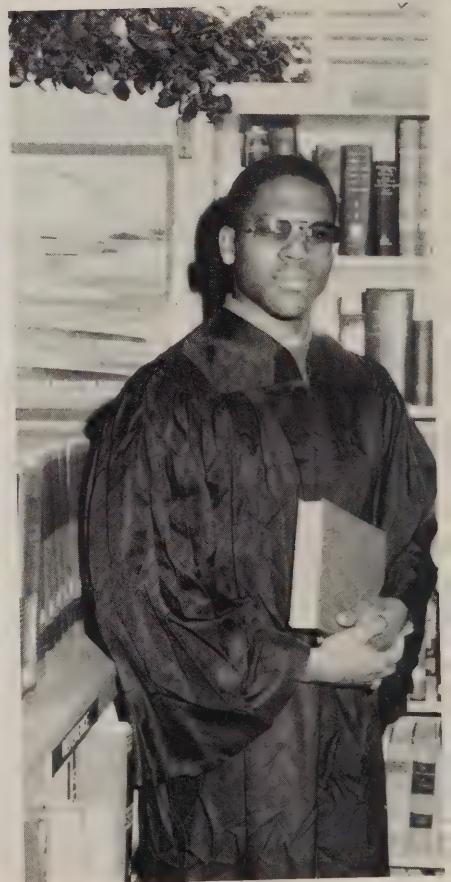

All procedures and decisions of the court were properly recorded and reported to the proper principal.

Accepting the charge. Rodney Bland, Chief Justice, accepts the charge from Mr. Stevens, assistant principal in the Marshall building.

Installation speaker. Dr. Lois Harrison-Jones, Superintendent-elect for Richmond City, speaks during Student Court Installation.

Smiles from the ladies. Superintendent-elect, Dr. Lois Harrison-Jones and Marshall-Walker principal, Dr. Iris Metts chat following installation.

Female justices, Tanya Smith, Lisa Claiborn, Raquel Arrington, and LaShon Glover stand ready to make a decision.

Chief Justice, Rodney Bland, checks the reference shelf in search of previous court decisions.

Student Court Justices: Rodney Bland, Melvin Crenshaw, Wayne Henderson, James Hargrove, Tanya Smith, Theodore Brown, Nicole Lewis, Lisa Claiborn, Karla Peters, and Raquel Arrington.

JROTC SEEKS EXCELLENCE

The Marshall-Walker JROTC was rated HONOR UNIT at the last formal inspection. Units receiving this rating are among the top JROTC units.

This rating is based on discipline, training excellence and cadet performance as well as with the involvement of the Rifle Team, Drill Teams, Color Guard, and Cadet Corps in school and community activities.

Units with the HONOR UNIT rating may nominate qualified cadets to the service academies.

The JROTC at Marshall-Walker has 163 members. This membership includes three companies, a drill team, rifle team, color guard, and special assignment groups.

The JROTC has been actively engaged in school and community activities this year.

The Cadet Corps marched in the Autumn Harvest Festival Parade, the North Side Business Association Parade and The Parade for Richmond Christmas Celebration.

The Cadet Corps also participated in an orientation tour of Fort Lee where cadets were able to test leadership skills and physical endurance as well as confidence.

The Color Guard made presentations at all games at which the Marshall-Walker Football Team visited.

Escorts were provided for the homecoming game as well as for the Gold Bowl.

Hats off to Marshall-Walker's JROTC.

PEERS HELPING PEERS

When Anthony Harris, a senior at the Marshall building of Marshall-Walker, speaks about alcoholism and drug abuse, he has no problems getting the attention of his peers. He knows first hand what it's like to lose a friend to drugs.

Several years ago, a 15-year-old friend died from smoking marijuana laced with a poisonous chemical.

"I hated that he died . . . My life has not been easy. I've been in foster homes. My parents are divorced and I was tempted to turn to drugs. But I didn't," Harris said.

"I feel some people are not as strong as me. That's why I'm here to help others. Besides, I have wonderful friends," he said, receiving a hug from a fellow student.

A member of ADAPTS (Alcohol and Drug Abuse Prevention and Training Services), Harris is one of about 130 city pupils called peer facilitators trained to help students avoid drugs or alcoholism as well as enhance their self images.

When some of the facilitators met with about 200 students in the Marshall building gym and the question was asked as to how many of those present were offered drinks at parties, nearly all raised their hands. The facilitators' message was that it's okay to say, "No".

While many students started to laugh, others seemed to take the subject seriously, bowing their heads with no facial expressions, remembering that it is illegal in Virginia for anyone under 21 to buy, possess or consume wine or spirits.

Yet most of the students who were under 18 said they had drunk alcoholic beverages. Therefore the peer facilitators also teach how to resist peer pressure to drink or use drugs as well as why people choose to drink or not to drink.

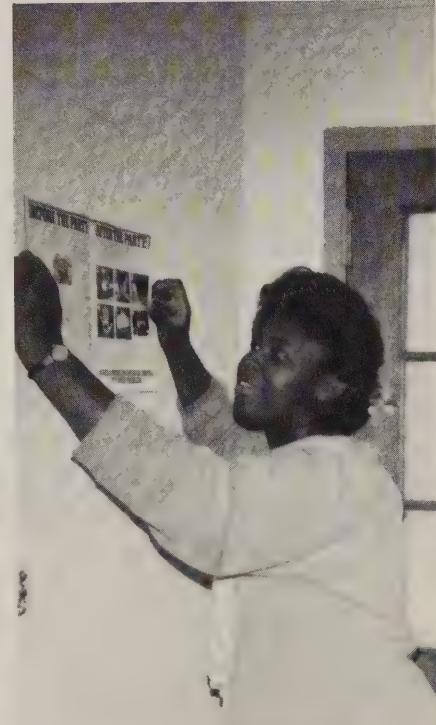

Isaac Johnson, peer facilitator, talks with Cavaliers about the importance of avoiding drugs and alcohol.

Senior ADAPTS member, Kim Jackson, successfully catches the ball during a baseball game at the ADAPTS retreat in Front Royal, Virginia.

Flossie Stark pins a poster on the wall giving before and after the party pointers for the peer group.

All fenced in. Laverne Dickens leans against the fence for support as she candidly smiles for the roving camera man.

ADAPTS PEERS: Velvia Brooks, Pamela Godley, Michelle Washington, Cassandra Johnson, Laverne Dickens, Judy Branch. Row two: Mrs. Atkinson (sponsor), Andrea Stockman, Barry Bell, Oscar Johnson, Emma Williams.

Chatting session: Peer facilitator Emma Williams chats with Denise Barnett who laughingly agrees with the advice given.

STUDENTS SHOW ABILITY

Students Interested in Developing Academic Potential (Sidap), is an educational program here at Marshall-Walker.

It was developed to help students who show ability, process that ability and put it to good use.

Some of the goals of Sidap are improvement in student scores on College Board exams, an increase in the awareness of students to in-state and out-of-state college opportunities, to increase the number of students taking advanced placement courses, and to enable students to receive college credit for 13AP courses.

With all these goals, it is no wonder that the benefit is so great in the long run.

Single-handedly, Denise Dunlap, a junior, prepares to go into a word power program as a part of her Sidap's activities.

The main benefit of Sidap is to give the students cultural enrichment that may not have been offered otherwise.

The group has been honored with many awards. The most recent being the VPI award for excellence in education. Our group was picked as one of the twelve selected.

Only twelve groups were picked from entries submitted from the entire state. We are very proud of our group.

On October 24 and 25, Dr. Iris Metts, Mrs. Janice Bibby, Mrs. Lillian Carter, Dr. Laverne Spurlock and our Best Products representative, Mrs. Dayle Dunn travelled to the Virginia Tech campus to receive the award.

Hands in position, Bobby Scott, a sophomore at Marshall, solve a geometric problem on the computer. He finds this activity to be a fun one.

Making a point. Mrs. Janice Bibby, Sidap's mathematics consultant, uses the overhead projector to explain a trigonometry problem.

"It's like this . . . " Mrs. Lillian Carter, language arts consultant for Sidap, explains some necessary steps essential for dealing with analogies.

Word power. Shalisa White, sophomore, enhances her vocabulary as she tries to crack the work power program.

WINTER CONCERT

The Marshall-Walker High School annual Winter Concert was held Sunday, December 15, 1985.

The program evolved around the Christmas theme. Each participating group gave its own rendition of what Christmas meant to its members. Participation on the program included the orchestra, choir and concert band.

The choir sang several songs that fit the expectations of the listening audience. Selections included "Recipe for Christmas", "Tambourine Noel" and "A Prayer of Hope". A small group made up of members of the choir sang "He is Born" and "Gloria".

The concert band rendered "Christmas Spectacular", a medley of several Christmas tunes. The band also did "Greensleeves" and "Have Yourself a Merry Little Christmas".

Hats off to our directors, Mrs. Marie Shelton, choir; Mr. Shaw, orchestra; and Mr. Tuscan Jasper, concert band.

In appreciation for the audience participation, a reception followed the program.

Standing to the occasion, Calvin Grimes, a sophomore plays a solo part on his trumpet.

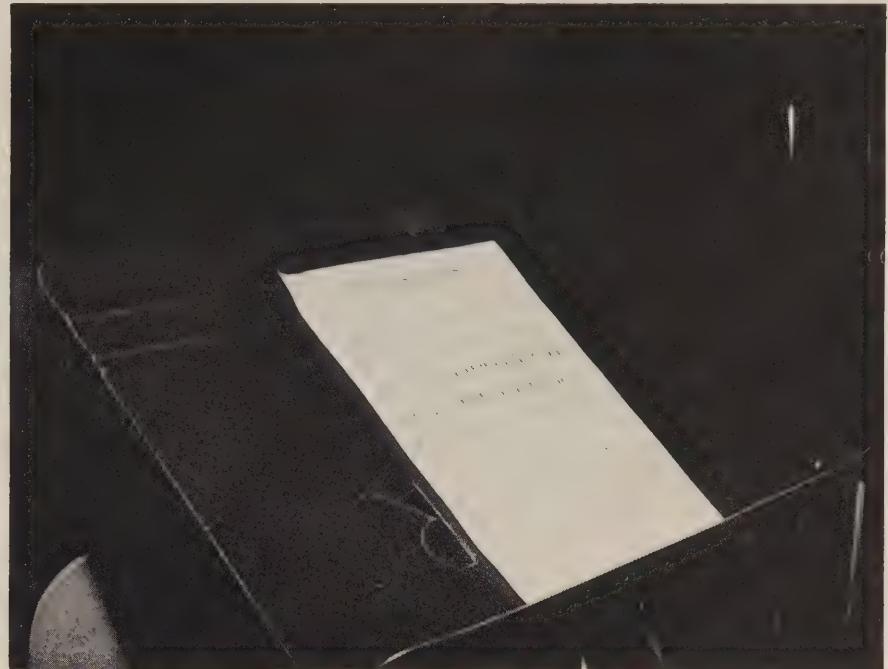

A complimentary blow from senior Myron Richardson helps to set the pace for the concert band.

Tapping lightly, senior Rosalyn Hayes plays the chimes.

"Greensleeves" was a selection played by the concert band.

Under the direction of Mr. Tuscan Jasper, the band played on.

CONT . . .

Mr. David Williams, assistant band director, helps the band members keep their timing as they perform during the winter concert.

The saxophone section does a solo during the band's performance. The band did an exceptional job at the concert.

Mr. Tuscan Jasper, band director, points to the section that he wishes to play, while Rosalyn Brown gives him her attention.

Harvetta Dunlap plays her clarinet to the tune of "Jingle Bells" while Myron Richardson awaits his turn with his trumpet.

Evette Wingfield and Sabrina Gregory, two members of the concert choir, help the parents serve at the end of the program.

Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Quarles, Mrs. Shelton, director, of the choir, and Mrs. Thornton wait to serve patrons to show appreciation for attendance.

PATRONS

of the LaPlume are an important part of the yearbook. Through their support, students are able to defray the cost of their senior class dues. Their contributions also make possible many added features that enhance the quality of the yearbook. Without these patrons, the LaPlume could never be as successful as it has been.

No Farewell, No Goodbye

by Tamela Johnson

You gave us no goodbye
You gave us no farewell
You went away before we knew it,
And God only knows why.

Days go swiftly by
Years may come and go.
But memories of you will never die,
Because we love you so.

A heart of gold stopped beating.
A soul of misery laid to rest.
God took you from us.
To prove he only takes the Best.

Class Of 1986!

1985-1986 HIGHLIGHTS

On the National Scene — Super Bowl winners — Chicago Bears. World Series winners — Kansas City Royals. The Challenger exploded. Martin Luther King Day — National Holiday. The Color Purple — #1 Movie. Willie Lanier — Football Hall of Fame. The Cosby Show — #1 Show. Whitney Houston — #1 Singer. Statewide — Doug Wilder — Lt.

Governor. Baliles — New Governor; Mary Sue Terry — Attorney General.

Locally — CIAA Tournament held in Richmond. Mayor West reelected. Sixth Street Market Place opened. Marriott Hotel opened. Richmond City #2 in homicides. L L Cool J — #1 group — Favorite words — Word, chill, crib, frontin', crash.

Dressed for success, Lisa St. John delivers a vocabulary workbook to her locker mate.

All caged in! Appearing to be happy prisoners, Robert Steele and Winston Williams are actually standing behind the gates used to close off parts of the building after school.

Senior Administration Day Committee: Linda Bryant, Bridget Pitts, Sonya Samuels. Second row: Maria Bryant, Mary Wilson, chair person; Chris Jones, Alpheus Johnson.

Benched beauties. Angela Coy and Tanya Smith enjoy a pleasant chat in the tranquil atmosphere of the courtyard.

Carting the issue. Communicative Arts Department Head, Mrs. Juanita Coles, is assisted in disseminating test scores by Laverne Dickens and Anquelique Hunt.

All sacked out. Walter Broadie deftly hauls his sack of books as he pauses on his way to class. Walter is a varsity football player.

Back to back. Reggie Robinson and Tia Petty stand back to back as they pose for our roving photographer, Dave Jennings.

Testing 1, 2, 3. Deborah Law, SCA President, makes the morning announcements via the public address system.

Headlocked. Tim Taylor relaxes in a self-placed headlock while browsing through last year's yearbook.

Locker letters. Tracy Mayo reads an anonymous letter tucked inside her locker.

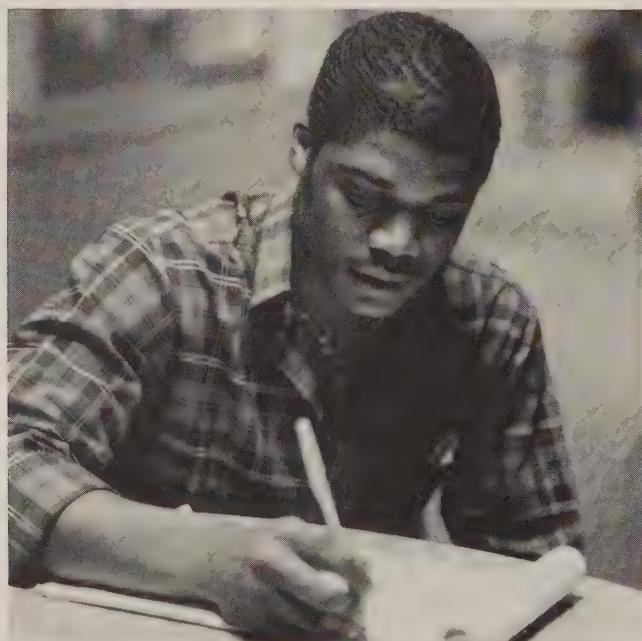

YEARBOOK STAFF . . . LAYING THE GROUNDWORK

"Paging Mr. Cavalier," Yearbook staff members Leslie Harrison, William Bryant and Reginald Robinson thumb through the pages of an old yearbook searching for the perfect Cavalier.

Seeing between the lines, Andrea Stockman peers over a quad that she is preparing for publication.

In deep concentration, Alex Smith, staff artist, gives his full attention to his sketch pad.

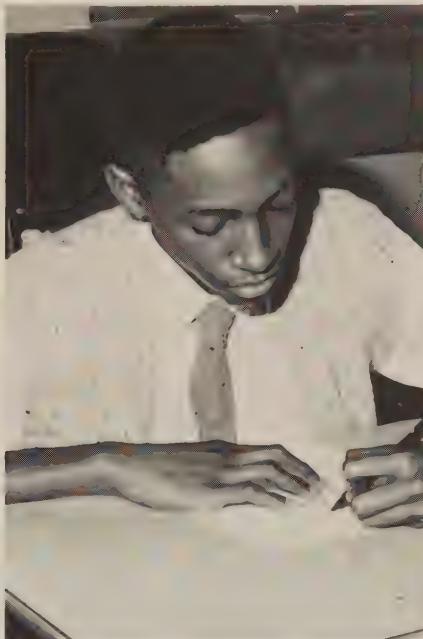

Noting mistakes, Jacquetta Green carefully examines some copy for the senior section.

All keyed up. Tracy Gray tries to keep her eyes away from the keys and on the copy as she types that all important deadline.

Artful concentration. Donnell Hopkins, staff calligrapher, artfully gives his attention to designing a layout.

All booked up. Tamela Johnson is surrounded by books as she pours through old yearbooks searching for ideas.

A Cavalier design. Kenneth Waddy, senior staff artist, carefully prepares the cover design.

Copy writer. Kim Crump, carefully prepares copy for the senior section of the upcoming yearbook.
